

Second Call for submissions
III Latin American Congress of Political Ecology
DECOLONIAL INSURGENCES AND EMANCIPATORY HORIZONS:
POLITICAL ECOLOGY AND LIBERATION
Salvador, Bahia, Brazil | March 18-20 2019

The Latin American Network of Political Ecology, through the organizing committee of the III Latin American Congress of Political Ecology, invites the academic community and social movements to participate in this meeting, which will be held in Salvador, in the state of Bahia, Brazil, from March 18th to 20th, 2018 – NEW DATES.

The main theme of the congress deals with the turbulent times faced by Latin America, with the emergence of authoritarian and neoliberal governments and the acceleration of extractivist policies and the desnationalization of natural resources. Facing this reactionary turn, decolonial insurgences and struggles emerge, regathering emancipatory horizons, new resistance ecologies that reconfigure the liberation praxis. Within this urgent political context, the Congress aims to create a space for encounters and convergences between emancipatory thought and practices, between academy, social movements and activism.

The congress is organized by the Federal University of Bahia (UFBA) and the Federal University of Recôncavo da Bahia (UFRB), with the research group Undisciplined Environments and the support of Clacso' Working Group on Political Ecology from Latin America Abya Yala, gathering a network of collaboration with other Brazilian and other latin-american universities and social movements.

New Deadline to proposals (abstracts): August 10th 2018
congresoep.propuestas@gmail.com

Guiding themes:

- Capitalism political ecology and landscapes of inequality
- Insurgent political ecologies
- Decolonial ecologies, environmental epistemologies and cosmovisions

Modes of participation (Portuguese, Spanish and English)

Presentations; Round tables; Dialogues; Workshops; Arts; Experience Submissions and registration

At the website <https://congresoecologiapo.wixsite.com/cachoeira>

More information: congreso.ecologiapolitica@gmail.com

